Section 2 – Executors

Executors need to be appointed to take responsibility to ensure that the terms of your will are carried out. We always recommend appointing two executors because of the possibility of one not being available at your death and also because monies may need to be held on behalf of minor beneficiaries.

Despite the common misconception Executors can be beneficiaries – Your spouse/partner can be your Executor on their own or with additional Executors.

If you would prefer a professional Executor Breeze & Wyles Solicitors LLP would be happy to accept your appointment to act in such capacity.
